Creator History

Fannia Cohn, labor educator and leader, was born in 1885 or 1888 in Russia to a middle-class Jewish family. In 1904 she emigrated to the United States, and in 1909 she began her life-long career with the International Ladies Garment Workers Union as a member of the Executive Board of the Wrapper, Kimono, and Housedress Makers Local 41. From approximately 1914-1916 Cohn lived in Chicago, working as a general organizer for the ILGWU. In 1916 Cohn returned to New York as the ILGWU's Vice-President. She was the first woman ever to hold that post, and she retained it until 1925.

Throughout her life she played an important role in worker education. From 1918 until her retirement in 1962, Cohn was the Executive Secretary of the ILGWU Educational Department. Under her leadership the union provided educational, cultural, and recreational services to members, and the ILGWU Educational Department grew to become the largest union education department in the country. Throughout her career, Cohn lectured and published on workers' education and the role of women in the labor movement.

Cohn's career had many notable highlights. Cohn was a co-founder, in 1921, of the Workers' Education Bureau, a clearinghouse for workers' education programs absorbed in the 40's by the American Federation of Labor. Also in 1921, she helped to found Brookwood Labor College, a residential college for workers in Katonah, New York. In 1924 she helped to found both the Manumit School for Workers' Children in Pawling, New York, and the Pioneer Youth of America. Throughout her life, Cohn was also active in many other labor, education, Jewish organizations. Cohn retired from the ILGWU in August, 1962, and died soon after.

Scope and Content Note

The three largest series in this collection of Cohn's papers are Correspondence, Writings, and ILGWU. The Correspondence series contains letters written and received by Cohn. The Writings series contains typescripts of many of Cohn's speeches, articles, plays, and other writings. The ILGWU series documents the activities of the some ILGWU officers, and has a good amount of material on the ILGWU Education Department. Only small amounts of material document the activities of the Workers' Education Bureau, Brookwood Labor College, the Manumit School for Workers' Children, and Pioneer Youth of America, in all of which Cohn was active.

These papers contain a relatively small and random sample of the much larger number of letters and documents which must have crossed Cohn's desk during her long and active professional career.

Arrangement: Nine series: I. Correspondence, 1914-1962; II. Writings, ca. 1920s-1950s; III. International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, 1920s-1962; IV. Workers' Education Bureau, 1920s-1950s; V. Brookwood Labor College, 1924-1938; VI. Youth Programs, 1932-1950s; VII. Edwin Markham Testimonial Committee Correspondence, 1928-1930; VIII. Photographs, 1920s-1962, and Oversize Items; IX. Other Groups

Container List

I. Correspondence 1914-1962, n.d.

The correspondence series is the largest in the collection, filling five boxes. Of these, three contain letters (including typescript copies) received by Cohn, 1914-1962, and two contain original letters, and copies and drafts of letters she wrote, 1919-1961. Letters are in chronological order. The correspondence chiefly concerns ILGWU Educational Department matters. Some correspondence with A.J. Muste concerning Brookwood Labor College, and with friends, including Evelyn Preston and Theresa Wolfson, is included. Cohn's correspondents include ILGWU officials; representatives of other labor unions; workers' education, labor, and education organizations in the United States and Europe; journals; scholars; and some prominent individuals including Charles Beard (typescripts only), A. Philip Randolph, and Norman Thomas.

III. International Ladies Garment Workers Union 1920s-1962

A variety of documents, ca. 1920s-1950s, relating to the Educational Department and to the ILGWU as a whole are gathered here as general files. Included are statements, lists, notes, accounts, plans, statistics, conference documents, and letters sent and received by various ILGWU officials, including presidents Morris Sigman and David Dubinsky, and including a few by Cohn. Also included are scattered minutes of various ILGWU bodies, including the Education Committee and the Education Council, 1920s-1940s; reports, both typescript and printed, 1920s-1950s; announcements and lists of courses, lectures, panel discussions, trips, and social events offered by the Educational Department, 1920s-1960s; descriptions of courses, 1920s-1930s, offered by the Educational Department to its members on labor and liberal arts topics (lecturers included William Kennedy, Joel Seidman, and Carl Van Doren); typescript lectures, research papers, and student writings; panel discussion presentations, 1940s-1950s; lists of program attendees, union members, and other individuals; letters and mimeographed material relating to the ILGWU Student Fellowships, 1940s-1950s; and clippings (some in Yiddish) and printed material.

- b. 9 General files; minutes and reports; announcements 1920s-40s
- b. 10 Announcements, course descriptions; lectures 1950s-60s
- b. 11 Lectures; panel discussions; student fellowship; lists of names; printed material
- b. 12 Printed material

A strike notice addressed to members of ILGWU Local 41, Tuckers, Hemstitchers, Pleaters, and Novelty Workers, in Yiddish and English, n.d., has been placed in oversized box 2.

IV. Workers' Education Bureau 1920s-1950s

General files contain a mixture of memoranda, letters, lists, minutes, press releases, conference documents, accounts, and reports. A few issues of Workers' Education Bureau periodicals, and some printed material, are also included.

b. 12 1920s - 1950s

V. Brookwood Labor College 1924-1938

Correspondence, 1924-1937, consists chiefly of letters to and from Chair of Faculty A.J. Muste. By-laws, reports (of note is a report, probably by Muste, on Brookwood delivered at the Second International Conference on Workers' Education, Oxford, England, 1924), minutes, and printed material are included. Also included is a file of letters, accounts, and legal and other documents, ca. 1926-1938, concerning Brookwood's financial problems. See the Writings series for addresses by Cohn on Brookwood.

b. 13 1924 - 1938

VI. Youth Programs 1932-1950s

a. Manumit School for Workers' Children 1932-1933

Included are minutes of the Board of Directors of Manumit Associates, Inc., June 13, 1932, and minutes of the school's board, August 7, 1932, August 12, 1932, and November 19, 1933. A fundraising circular, 1932, is also included.

b. Pioneer Youth of America 1950s

Scattered minutes of meetings of the Board of Directors, 1950-1956, and reports, memoranda, and printed material, 1950s, are included.

VII. Edwin Markham Testimonial Committee correspondence, personal ephemera; fragments. 1928-1930

Included is a file of letters, 1928, written in response to Herman Bernstein's invitations to serve on the Edwin Markham Testimonial Committee. The committee, on which Cohn served, was created to organize a tribute to Markham on the thirtieth anniversary of the publication of his poem "The Man With the Hoe." Charles Beard, Clarence Darrow, Lillian Wald, and other prominent figures are among the respondents. Letters dating to 1930 concerning other tributes to Markham are included.

Personal ephemera consists of certificates awarded to Cohn by the ILGWU and the American Federation of Labor; a dedication, in Russian, torn out of a Russian book; and printed material. Miscellaneous, fragmentary, and unidentifiable items relating to Cohn's professional activities are also included.

VIII. Photographs, and oversized items. 1920s-1962

Included are candid and posed, group and individual portraits of Fannia Cohn. Many show her participating in ILGWU Educational Department activities, including classes, lectures, museum trips, plays, and events at Unity House. Also included are photographs of Cohn at the Second International Conference on Workers' Education, Oxford, 1924; on the boardwalk during the 1934 ILGWU convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey; and at her 1962 retirement luncheon.

Oversized items from all parts of the collection are stored with the photographs.

IX. Other Groups

Reprints of articles, brochures, flyers, and other printed material issued primarily by workers' education and labor groups.
