Biographical note

Jonathan Ned Katz (1938 -), author, playwright, historian, teacher, gay rights advocate, and textile designer, was born in New York City, the son of Bernard Katz (1902-1970), an advertising executive, and Phyllis Brownstone Katz, a magazine editor. His grandfather on his mother's side, Abraham Brownstone, had emigrated to Canada in 1888 at age fifteen from his native Bessarabia (Russia).

Raised in New York City in Lower Manhattan at his parents' residence on 81 Jane Street, Jonathan Katz was graduated in 1956 from the High School of Music and Art. During his senior year he directed a musical revue and variety show ("Going...Going...Gone") which was staged by members of the graduating class. After high school Katz attended Antioch College (1956-1957), the College of the City of New York (1957-1960) and the New School (1961-1962) although without taking an academic degree.

During the 1960s Katz was employed in New York City as a free-lance textile designer at the Prince Studio (1960-1965), New Group, Inc. (1965-1970) and at Henry Glass, Inc. (1970-1972, 1976). In later years he has held positions in development and publications at Scholastic, Inc. (1982-1984), the Center for Constitutional Rights (1984-1986), and the American Civil Liberties Union (1989-1990).

His writing career began in earnest in 1967 with the production of two documentary plays about fugitive slaves (Inquest at Christiana; and The Dispute over the Ownership of Anthony Burns) both of which were broadcast over radio station WBAI-FM (N.Y.). This initial preoccupation with Black history was most likely due to the influence of his father who was a noted authority on Negro jazz, and a devoted collector of jazz recordings. Continuing the documentary approach to historical writing which he was to employ throughout most of his writing career, Katz published two additional works in the field of Black studies: Black Woman: A Fictionalized Biography of Lucy Terry Prince (Pantheon, 1973) which he co-authored with his father although it was published after the latter's death; and Resistance at Christiana: The Fugitive Slave Rebellion, Christiana, Pennsylvania, 1851 (T.Y. Crowell, 1974).

A staunch advocate of gay rights, Katz turned his attention in the mid-1970s to the plight of another beleaguered minority, that of gay men and lesbians. Taking up the cause he became a founding member of the Gay Academic Union and with the publication in rapid succession of three books of historical documentation and analysis, he brought to the issue of gay and lesbian rights an historical depth, perspective, and understanding which had heretofore been lacking. His books Coming Out! A Documentary Play About Gay Life and Liberation (Arno Press, 1975), Gay American History: Lesbians and Gay Men in the U.S.A. (T. Y. Crowell, 1976), and Gay/Lesbian Almanac: A New Documentary (Harper & Row, 1983) also established his reputation as one of America's leading authorities on homosexuality and on gay and lesbian history. Katz is also the author of The Invention of Heterosexuality (Dutton, 1995) and Love Stories: Sex Between Men Before Homosexuality (University of Chicago Press, 2001).

In addition to his major publications Katz has contributed papers at conferences and published articles, reviews and essays on the subject of homosexuality, heterosexuality, and gay and lesbian issues. In 1975 he was general editor of the Arno Press-New York Times reprint series on homosexuality. He has also been guest lecturer on gay American history at several colleges and universities including Yale, Princeton, and the University of Chicago, and has taught courses on the gay and lesbian history at New York University and at the New School for Social Research (1991).

During his writing career Katz has been the recipient of several grants from philanthropic foundations including the Writer-in-Residence Grant from the New York State Council on the Arts (1984 and 1985), the Louis M. Rabinowitz Foundation, and from the Pennsylvania Humanities Council for the purpose of producing, in collaboration with the Philadelphia Lesbian and Gay Task Force, an educational documentary entitled "Words" which explored the changing terminology's and concepts in the field of gay and lesbian history.

Scope and content note

The Jonathan Ned Katz Papers reflect his life and career as an author, historian, teacher, gay rights advocate and textile designer. Included are correspondence, writings, topical files, research notes, papers relating to grant proposals and to the teaching of gay history, personal miscellany, printed matter, sound recordings, films, and samples of Katz's textile designs on cloth and paper. About 40% of the papers consist of typescript drafts (with collateral papers) of Katz's published books; and miscellaneous essays, lectures, reviews and other writings. About 20% of the papers consists of correspondence with historians, scholars, publishers, gay and lesbian rights advocates, and others including Katz family members. The remainder (40%) of the papers consist chiefly of topical files.

Series I. Correspondence

A. General correspondence, 1960s-2003

The bulk of the correspondence, which is arranged alphabetically in the period 1960s-2003, is with academicians, scholars, historians, gay men, lesbians, activists in the gay liberation movement, publishers, homophile groups, readers of his books, librarians, archivists, personal friends, and acquaintances. Much of the correspondence relates to Mr. Katz's historical writings on gay American history and to his searches for source materials relating to historical and contemporary experiences of gay men and lesbians in America.

Correspondents include: The Advocate, Richard Amory, Arno Press, Alan Bell, Eric Bentley, Allan Bérubé, Louis Crompton, John D'Emilio, Martin Duberman, Jeannette Howard Foster, Stephen W. Foster, David Gibson, Barbara Gittings, Edward F. Grier, Foster Gunnison (Institute of Social Ethics), Homosexual Information Center (Calif.), Bert Hansen, Walter Harding, Haworth Press, Henry ("Harry") Hay, Indiana University (Institute for Sex Research), Christopher Isherwood (See also: Container #27, permissions folder) Karla Jay, James L. Kepner, Jr., Morris Kight, Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund, Michael Lynch, (David McReynolds: See: Container #27, permissions folder), Nicholas Patricca, Ned Rorem, Joan Raines, Judith Schwarz, Lawrence Senelick, Ann Snitow, Jim Steakley, Carol Vance, Bruce Voeller, Jeffrey Weeks, Scott Wirth, and Allen Young.

The Harry Hay and James L. Kepner, Jr. files contain a profusion of anecdotal details relative to their personal lives and to their participation in the struggle for gay rights including the founding in California of the original Mattachine Society.

Separate alphabetical and chronological runs reflect material donated at different times.

B. Family correspondence

The family correspondence and papers include correspondence between Jonathan Ned Katz and his mother, Phyllis Brownstone Katz, his brother William Loren Katz, and others. Included are a few letters (1947-1956 and undated) written by Jonathan Ned Katz to his mother, father and family during his childhood and young adulthood. There are also a few estate papers of Abraham Brownstone (grandfather of Jonathan Ned Katz) including a typescript (5 p.) entitled "A Young Boy's Experiences in Bessarabia."

Series II. Topical Files

Series II consists of a topical file of miscellaneous papers including correspondence, notes, minutes, and memoranda, relating to Mr. Katz's professional interests and activities as gay activist and historian of gay history. Included are papers relative to a proposal to establish an Institute for the Study of Sex in Society to serve as a focal point for research on sexuality from a social, historical and public policy perspective.

Files related to exhibits, include material related to exhibits that Katz organized and was involved with include Gay and Lesbian History, 1998; "100 Years of the Homosexual Rights Movement", Berlin and "The Pink and the Blue: Lesbian and Gay Life at Yale and in Connecticut, 1642-2004". There are research materials, photographs, correspondence and programs.

The grant files document Mr. Katz's requests for financial aid from philanthropic and other institutions to support the research and writing of his historical documentaries including his book on gay and lesbian history; a proposed documentary play based upon the life and writings of Walt Whitman; a book on the political economy of sex; a study of the history and origins of the state sodomy laws; and a book-length version of his article "The Invention of Heterosexuality" (Socialist Review, Feb. 1990).

Series III. Writings

The writings consist of typescript drafts with corrections and emendations and with a few page proofs and galleys of Mr. Katz's historical documentaries: Coming Out! A Documentary Play about Gay Life and Liberation (Arno Press, c1975); Gay American History: Lesbians and Gay Men in the U.S.A. (T. Y. Crowell, 1976); Gay/Lesbian Almanac: A New Documentary (Harper & Row, 1983); and a typescript (incomplete) of "Resistance at Christiana: The Fugitive Slave Rebellion, Christiana, Pennsylvania, 1851" (T. Y. Crowell, 1974). Included also are multiple drafts of his book The Invention of Heterosexuality (Dutton, 1995).

Following the typescripts of each work are topical files of collateral papers including correspondence (with publishers and others), permissions, promotion and publicity materials, copies of published reviews, and other miscellany.

Included also are typescripts, arranged by title, of Mr. Katz's other writings: essays, lectures, and reviews on various subjects including American painting, American film, fugitive slaves, Marxism, sodomy in colonial America, and transsexualism.

Later additions include material concerning the book Love Stories: Sex Between Men Before Homosexuality (University of Chicago Press, 2001) and an unpublished book, "Showing Our Faces" which was re-imagined as a calendar.

Research files contain photocopies of scholarly articles, along with correspondence pertaining to the article.

Series V. Research Notes and Papers

This series consists of a topical file of Mr. Katz's notes and papers relating to his research on gay and lesbian history. The bulk of the files consists of photocopies of source materials from various repositories accumulated by Katz during the course of his research on gay and lesbian history. Some files contain handwritten notes, drafts of articles, correspondence with scholars, historians, librarians, and archivists. Included are photocopies of papers relating to Henry Gerber, Harry Hay and of Jim Kepner which were accumulated by Katz during the course of his research on gay American history.

The papers relating to Henry Gerber, who was a founder of the Chicago Society for Human Rights, consist of photocopies of Gerber's correspondence (1940-57) mainly to Manuel Boyfrank, and of photocopies of his writings on homosexuality some of which were published (1934) in Chanticleer.

The papers relating to Harry Hay consist of a typed typescript copy of an interview conducted by Katz on March 31, 1974 [an audiotape of this interview can be found in the Sound Recordings series]; and miscellaneous documents (some original) with accompanying annotations by Hay relating to the Mattachine Society of California and to Hay's personal career as a gay activist.

The papers relating to Jim Kepner consist of photocopies of Kepner's letters (1943-44) to Wally Jordan.

There are several separate alphabetical runs which reflect materials donated to the library at different times.

Additional research notes may be found in the series Topical Files and Writings.
